WHY GANDHI JI IS CALLED MAHATMA?

M.K. Gandhi: Most Popular Indian in the world, Majority of Country Needs admire his Personality.

There is not a single country in the whole world that has the name of Mahatma Gandhi in its name. So you know why? Gandhi is known as Mahatma in India.

Non-violence, Simplicity, Straightforwardness, Work Culture & Forgiveness.

Gandhiji was an 80th birthday. Who passed away for 20 years of his life in South Africa. Seeing the suffering of Indians abroad and also in India, he left his lucrative earnings in South Africa and returned to India and made up his mind to fight for the freedom of India.

Gandhiji dedicated his entire life to the service of humanity and had taught the importance of Truth, Non-violence and simplicity. For this reason, the name 'Mahatma' was coined before his name and in India he is respectfully called the 'Father of the Nation'. The most striking feature that we Indians must follow is the path he had shown us.

A home coming for the Indian off-spinner

Coming back from her recent trip to West Indies and playing against the Aussies in the T-20 series in Vizag 23-year-old Archana still has her feet on the ground

I was 'home coming' for the India star Archana Das, literally, when she visited the Sports Coaching Foundation on Sunday morning. For, it was at this venue she first learnt the basics in 1999 and got the desired support from people like K. Sai Baba, general secretary of SCF, former APWCA organising secretary T. N. Pillay and Dutta Nalga, HCA curator at Gymkhana Grounds.

Coming back from her recent trip to West Indies and playing against the Aussies in the T-20 series in Vizag, the 23-year-old Archana, to the delight of her mentors, still has her feet on the ground. Not many may be aware that it was at this ground she spent most of her childhood, unsure then whether she would make a mark at the higher grade of women's cricket.

"Well, I remember Sai Baba Sir kept telling me that I would play for India one day," she amidst applause when the young trainees lined up to greet her last Sunday. "I felt great with those words for they helped me dream big and work really hard," recalled the India off-spinner whose spell of three for eight helped her team win the only T-20 game against the Aussies in the five-match series in Vizag last week.

Those were the days when her father struggled to raise money because his business of making jute bags and supplying to the leading malls in the twin cities was not really worth it in those days. "It was a huge task definitely then for all of us. But, I was determined to see that my daughter did not lose her interest in cricket," says Prabir Das, who shifted his base from Kolkata to the city in mid-90s, for better prospects for him and his daughter in cricket.

Mr. Pillay who handed over a token gesture of Rs. 5,000 given by SCF to Archana, feels that it is characters like the gifted Archana who let the game grow. "Those days there was no money at all in women's cricket. Even for officials to organise annual league, it was an uphill task. Yet, that we could produce players like Archana was a tribute to their indefatigable spirit and zeal to keep improving," he explained.

"I still dream big - to be a highly successful cricketer over a period of time. But, I cannot forget those good old days at this venue when there were so many boys who helped me train regularly. The bowling machine which was always kept ready for me was a big advantage," says Archana.

Now based in Kolkata, Archana is in the mood to keep doing well and play a key role in India's fortunes in the forthcoming big events.

In a way, though Archana is now a Kolkata girl, the fact that she was a Hyderabad in all aspects till she represented India, is a remarkable story of triumph over adversity.
